

Staff Care Telehealth Staffing for Physician Services

Telehealth connects patients anywhere with remote clinical specialists to improve access to care, proactively manage patient health, and reduce care delivery costs. However, none of these innovative programs can succeed without ready access to scarce clinical resources. To meet this challenge, Staff Care offers unparalleled access to the nation's largest network of physicians, nurse practitioners and physician assistants, ready to provide onsite or remote clinical services for telehealth programs.

Physicians and advanced practice clinicians are becoming increasingly scarce for healthcare systems to launch and sustain robust telehealth programs.

Telehealth staffing from Staff Care can overcome these challenges and provide compelling financial benefits. Staff Care leverages the nation's largest network of quality clinicians, allowing clients to increase case volume and manage more complex patients that would otherwise be diverted or transferred to other facilities. Telehealth case studies demonstrate significant increase in service line revenue with lower costs compared to traditional onsite physician resources.

Telehealth Program Benefits

- Expand market coverage and service offerings
- Improve patient access to critical healthcare expertise
- Meet quality initiatives and improve patient outcomes
- Reduce preventable hospital readmissions
- Expand clinical productivity while improving retention
- Provide coordinated care services outside your facility

Telehealth Critical Needs

Healthcare systems face a common challenge with telehealth - insufficient supply of physicians and advanced practice clinicians who meet high quality standards. Industry reports forecast a growing physician shortage that will exceed 90,000 by 2025.

Telehealth Staffing Solution

Staff Care provides clients with high-quality physicians, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants, working in full-time or part-time assignments in both in-patient and out-patient clinical settings. Staff Care telehealth staffing provides a compelling solution for remote sites that may have trouble recruiting a local physician, that need after-hours shift coverage, or want to deliver new specialty care services.

Telehealth programs also deliver value for local physicians, nurse practitioners and physician assistants. Staff Care telehealth physicians and mid-levels can reduce burn-out and improve quality of life and satisfaction levels for local providers. This can enhance health system recruiting efforts, increase retention levels and reduce costly turnover.
